The Grand Jury charges that:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

At all times material to this Indictment:

1. The International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 390 (Teamsters Local 390), was part of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

2. Port Everglades was a major maritime port in the United States, located in Broward County, Florida. Numerous goods were imported into the United States through Port Everglades.

3pr

3. Goods imported into the United States by ship through Port Everglades, as well as through other ports, are generally placed into metal shipping containers that are capable of being placed on trucks or rail cars and shipped by surface transport to their ultimate destinations. These metal shipping containers were unloaded from ships by stevedores, who used large cranes to lift the containers from docked ships. The containers were then taken by truck from the off-loading site for temporary storage at Port Everglades. In the temporary storage location the containers awaited final clearance by the United States Customs Service to enter the United States.

4. Crowley American Transport, Inc. (Crowley) was a maritime shipping company located at Port Everglades. Crowley was in the business of importing and exporting goods into and from the United States.

5. Teamsters Local 390 supplied the stevedores who unloaded the ships docked at Crowley. The stevedores worked in groups, with each group being led by a person called the "Header." Teamsters Local 390 also supplied drivers for various movie and television production companies involved in movie and television productions in South Florida.

6. Defendant CLARENCE LARK, was president of Teamsters Local 390 and exercised considerable influence over the assignment of Union members to unload ships at Crowley.

7. Defendant LARRY CRENSHAW, was the brother-in-law of defendant LARK, and served as a transportation captain for Local 390. As a transportation captain, defendant CRENSHAW was responsible for providing truck drivers from Teamsters Local 390 to movie and television production companies that were operating in South Florida.

8. The Independent Review Board (IRB) was established by court order in accordance with a consent order entered in United States v. IBT, 88 CIV. 4486 (S.D.N.Y.) to review the activities of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. On September 16, 1996, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, with the approval of the IRB, permanently barred defendant LARK from holding office with any International Brotherhood of Teamsters entity, paid or unpaid, having membership in Local 390 and any other International Brotherhood of Teamsters entity, or from receiving any compensation or benefits from any International Brotherhood of Teamsters entity other than fully vested benefits.

9. Following his removal as Union President and banishment from the Teamsters Union, however, defendant LARK continued to participate in the management of Teamsters Local 390 and exercise influence over the leadership of the Local 390.

10. Defendant LARK was a silent partner in, and exercised control over, Star's Choice, Inc. (Star's Choice). Star's Choice was a Florida corporation that rented vehicles to the movie and television industry. Teamsters Local 390, under the control of defendant LARK, supplied the drivers for the trucks rented by Star's Choice to movie and television production companies located in South Florida.

11. Star's Choice was financed, in part, by funds received by defendant LARK, Willie Jackson and others from the illegal importation and distribution of controlled substances. Star's Choice was used to launder illegal drug money.

12. Defendant LARK controlled the Union transportation captains who were responsible for renting vehicles, on behalf of the movie production companies, from Star's Choice.

13. Klimaxxx Productions Inc. (Klimaxxx), a pornography business, was a California corporation that was incorporated on or about July 12, 1995, by defendant JOHN GALLO.

14. The Bitas Group, Inc. (Bitas), a pornography business, was a California corporation that was incorporated on or about August 29, 1995, by defendant JOHN GALLO.

15. Triple J Enterprises, Inc. (Triple J), a pornography business, was a California corporation that was incorporated on or about September 14, 1995, by defendant GALLO.

16. Klimaxxx, Bitas and Triple J were financed and operated with funds derived from the illegal importation and distribution of controlled substances that were imported into the United States through Port Everglades. These illegal funds were provided to defendant GALLO by Willie Jackson and other conspirators. These conspirators imported drugs through Port Everglades with the assistance of defendant LARK and stevedores associated with Teamsters Local 390, among other persons.

17. Klimaxxx, Bitas, and Triple J were also used to launder illegal drug money in order to promote the continued illegal importation and distribution of controlled substances and to hide the nature and source of illegal narcotics proceeds.

18. Digital Concepts, Inc., was a California corporation, located at 77-530 Enfield Lane, Unit B, Palm Desert, California. This location is an office building that was owned by defendant GALLO and purchased with funds derived from the importation and distribution of controlled substances.

THE ENTERPRISE

2. From in or about 1985, to the date of the return of this Indictment, in the Southern District of Florida, Broward County, and elsewhere, Teamsters Local 390 constituted an enterprise within the meaning of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1961(4), that is, a union, which was engaged in, and the activities of which affected interstate and foreign commerce.

THE CONSPIRACY

3. From in or about 1985, and continuing thereafter to the date of the return of this Indictment, in the Southern District of Florida, Broward County, and elsewhere, the defendants,

CLARENCE LARK, and

together with others, being persons employed by and associated with the enterprise, which enterprise engaged in, and the activities of which affected interstate and foreign commerce, did knowingly, intentionally and unlawfully combine, conspire, confederate, and agree together, and with each other, and with persons known and unknown to the Grand Jury, to violate Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962(c), that is, to conduct and participate, directly and indirectly, in the conduct of the affairs of such enterprise through a pattern of racketeering activity as defined by Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1961(1) and (5).

4. The pattern of racketeering activity that the defendants agreed would be committed in the conduct of the affairs of the enterprise consisted of multiple acts involving violations of the following laws:

A. The importation into the United States of America of cocaine and marijuana, and conspiracy to do so, in violation of and indictable under, Title 21, United States Code, Sections 952 and 963.

B. The possession with the intent to distribute cocaine and marijuana, and conspiracy to do so, in violation of and indictable under, Title 21, United States Code, Sections 841 and 846.

E. Acts involving extortion, that is the unlawful demand for money from union members by malicious threats, chargeable under Florida State Statute Title 46, Section 836.05

MANNER AND MEANS OF THE CONSPIRACY

5. It was part of the conspiracy that each defendant agreed that a conspirator would commit at least two racketeering acts in conducting the affairs of the enterprise.

6. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendant CLARENCE LARK would seek to dominate and control the operations of Teamsters Local 390 through extortion, bribery and intimidation in order to run and operate Teamsters Local 390 so as to illegally enrich himself and other members of the conspiracy.

7. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendants CLARENCE LARK, LARRY CRENSHAW and other conspirators would violate their duties of honesty and trust that they owed to the rank and file members of Teamsters Local 390 in order to generate illegal income for themselves and the other members of the conspiracy.

8. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendants CLARENCE LARK, LARRY CRENSHAW and other conspirators would demand that other members of Teamsters Local 390 make illegal cash payments to defendants and conspirators in order to receive choice work assignments in the movie and television trades and work assignments at Crowley.

9. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendants CLARENCE LARK, LARRY CRENSHAW and other conspirators would abuse their responsibilities as officers of Teamsters Local 390 by facilitating the smuggling of over 3,500 kilograms of cocaine and over 39,000 kilograms of marijuana through Port Everglades in exchange for substantial bribes from drug smugglers.

10. 12. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendants CLARENCE LARK and other conspirators would, for the purpose of maintaining their positions as union officials and their relationship with Willie Jackson's drug organization, make, and cause to be made, false and misleading statements concerning the administration of Teamsters Local 390 during an investigation conducted by IRB.

13. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendant CLARENCE LARK would continue to maintain and exercise influence over the operation of Teamsters Local 390, even after the IRB removed him as Teamsters Local 390 President, in order to continue to maintain for himself, defendant CRENSHAW and other conspirators a source of illegal income from narcotics trafficking and extortion.

14. It was further part of the conspiracy that the defendants and other conspirators would rig various union elections in order to establish, maintain and further their influence over the leadership of Teamsters Local 390, so that members of the conspiracy would continue to profit from their illegal activities.

15. It was further part of the conspiracy that the defendants would endeavor to form a corrupt relationship with managers and employees of Crowley in order to obtain information about on-going criminal investigations and otherwise further their illegal activities of the enterprise.

16. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendant

LARRY CRENSHAW used his position as a transportation captain in the movie industry to extort illegal payments from union members for the benefit of defendant CLARENCE LARK, himself and other members of the conspiracy.

17. It was further part of the conspiracy that defendants CLARENCE LARK and LARRY CRENSHAW would accept and use large amounts of funds derived from the importation and sale of controlled substances to purchase trucks and other vehicles that would be used by Star's Choice, a company owned and controlled by members of the conspiracy.
